

As Seen In

Long Island
BusinessNEWS

Jan. 9-15, 2009

MELTZER, LIPPE, GOLDSTEIN & BREITSTONE

Avi Z. Kestenbaum

Kestenbaum, who is under age 40, rose from nonequity to equity partner in the firm's tax, trusts and estates and tax-exempt organizations groups. His practice includes sophisticated tax planning, estate planning and asset preservation advice. He also works on international tax and asset preservation planning; tax and estate controversies; and corporate and partnership business structuring. Kestenbaum advises many charitable organizations. He is an adjunct tax professor at Hofstra University School of Law and the Baruch College MBA program.